We're Nearly There!

As many parts of Canada head back to work, Canadian businesses face new realities that require new ways of thinking and operating.

In this edition of Business Insider, Bunzl Canada's President, John Howlett, shares his perspective on some of the expected outcomes of the COVID-19 pandemic. Our industry roundup offers insights on the "new normal" in key business sectors, revamping your facility's cleaning plan for reopening, a look at what's in store for the grocery industry, the importance of fit testing face masks and more.

While COVID-19 is unquestionably top-of-mind for everyone, taking care of the environment has taken a temporary back seat. However, concern for the planet's well-being isn't going away, so we're helping you understand some of the ways your business can progress toward sustainability goals through our new Sustainable Packaging Playbook.

Enjoy the Spring/Summer edition. And please, stay healthy and safe.

A Note From John Howlett

Not Quite "Business as Usual"

As all of us at Bunzl continue to work hard to serve you through the challenging circumstances surrounding COVID-19, I would like to recognize, thank and let all of the front-line and essential service workers, including our own employees, know that we stand behind you, and are working together with you, as we face, deal with and defeat this terrible virus.
